Job Title: Summer Pastorate in Vermont - 2012 Job Description: East Corinth Congregational Church, UCC, in East Central Vermont, seeks a student pastor during pastor's sabbatical this coming Summer after six years of ministry.

Healthy small congregation of about a hundred members, many more friends. Diverse politically, theologically, educationally, socio-economically, somewhat ethnically. Classic community church, serving the community as well as the congregation per se. Very mission-conscious; gives away about a sixth of its annual budget. Fun-loving people who genuinely care about each other and God's world.

Parsonage available in the village; walking distance to church, post office, library, store

Thirty miles north of Dartmouth College, Hopkins Center, etc, Hanover, NH

Flexible duration to fit student's needs; negotiable number of weeks, ideally 6-12 weeks during the period of May 28 - August 19; could be in two non-contiguous segments.

Primary responsibilities: preaching, worship preparation and leadership; emergency pastoral care (Deacons will have a plan for "routine" congregational care.). Since the food shelf is in the parsonage basement, optional opportunity to co-staff it one hour per week when it's open.

Small stipend (in addition to free "rent" with utilities in parsonage) to be negotiated with Pastoral Relations Committee Contact Information: For more information and to apply, contact:
